Mr. Jonathan Yardley, book critic
The Washington Post
1150 15 St., NW
Washington, DC 20071

8/3/93

Dear Mr. Yardley,

Nice to get your good wishes on my 51st wedding anniverary.

It will be interesting to see how many reviewers will do any checking at all when given Harrison Livingstone's Killing the Truth. Kent Carroll told PW that "many (critics) have, for one reason or another, put put a lot of disinformation, furthering the conspiracy."

Or, at the least, we are accessories after the fact.

In his letters to and about me he has me in two different but related conspiracies, the one to kill and the one to keep him from breaking the case open!

Kent Carroll certainly knows something about "put(ting) out a lot of disinformation."

Don't take time to acknowledge. I just wanted to say thanks and perhaps amuse you a bit.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg